BRAND GUIDELINES

Visual Identity Standards

Not a showroom. A collection.

The Collection curates rare and exceptional motorcars for those who understand that the finest things are not simply bought, but acquired. Each vehicle earns its place through provenance, condition and character — and is presented with the discretion the occasion deserves. We are not in the business of selling cars. We are in the business of matching extraordinary machines with the people who will appreciate them.

01

CURATION

A considered selection, not an inventory. Only the exceptional is shown.

02

PROVENANCE

History, originality and pedigree, documented and verified with care.

03

DISCRETION

Private by nature. Every client is handled with confidence and trust.

04

EXCELLENCE

An uncompromising standard, from the first conversation to the keys.

The wordmark is the heart of the identity. It pairs a flowing script — “The” — with bold, architectural capitals — “COLLECTION” — stacked and centred. It exists in two primary forms: the navy mark for light surfaces, and the reversed white mark for dark surfaces.

PRIMARY — NAVY ON LIGHT

REVERSED — WHITE ON DARK

Always use approved master artwork. The navy mark is preferred wherever the background is light and uncluttered; the reversed mark is used on Midnight Navy, photography and other dark surfaces. Do not recreate or retype the wordmark.

CLEAR SPACE

Keep a minimum clear space of X on every side, where X equals the cap-height of the letter “C” in COLLECTION. Never let other elements intrude on this space.

MINIMUM SIZE

PRINT — 25 mm wide

ANATOMY

“The” — a formal connecting script, lending tradition and heritage.

“COLLECTION” — bold condensed capital with tight, even spacing for presence and authority.

The two are locked together as a single unit. Their relationship, scale and alignment must never be altered.

The integrity of the wordmark protects the integrity of the brand. The examples below are never permitted.

A restrained, confident palette. Midnight Navy and white carry the brand; champagne is the single accent, used sparingly to signal occasion and worth.

WORDMARK FACES — REFERENCE

The logo's script ("The") references a formal calligraphic face such as Pinyon Script / Allura; the capitals ("COLLECTION") reference a bold condensed face such as Oswald / Bebas Neue. Use supplied artwork — these are for reference only.

SOURCING

Poppins and Lora are free, open-licence typefaces available from Google Fonts, with full web and desktop support. Use Poppins Medium where Light is too delicate at small sizes.

We speak the way the brand looks — quietly assured. We let the cars and the craft do the talking, and we never raise our voice to be heard.
